To whom it may concern

I first met Paul as a second year apprentice in 1990, I was the tradesman on site at the time.

From the first week of working with Paul I could tell he would be a good tradesman. His willingness to participate as part of a team, ability to learn and put new skills into practice quickly and successfully continued to impress me throughout the job.

Paul has worked for me on a number of occasions since in a tradesman's capacity. Not only has he completed the jobs with excellent precision, but on time and often under budget. He has managed jobs in their entirety from dealing with customers, other trades, and technical personnel such as engineers.

Paul has a wealth of knowledge and ability in and about his industry. I am positive on inspection of his sites and practical application you will be duly impressed and his application will be successful.

Should you have any further inquiries please do not hesitate to call me on the numbers in my letterhead.

Kind Regards

To whom it may concern

Paul Farthing came highly recommend to me by a fellow builder in Cairns in 1996. I was building houses in remote North Queensland.

Paul took a tender for two houses at Boigu Island & 2 houses at Edward River. In harsh and difficult conditions Paul and his team finished all houses with ease and better than some builders I know that had done that type of work for many years.

There have been many tenders since then all have gone smoothly and reliably no matter what type of structure or location and conditions. I have no hesitation in recommending Paul to anyone for any type of job in his chosen profession.

Paul has all the abilities of a builder and more, he has excellent problem solving skills, people skills with customers and employee's and also his fellow tradesman. It is my firm belief that you could put Paul in almost any situation on a job and he would come out the other side with all parties happy with the finished product.

I am contactable on the above numbers for further comment.

Yours Sincerely

To whom it may concern

My association with Paul Farthing has been a long one, he came to a job I was working on in 1993. My first assumption of "here is another young buck I am going to have to break in" was soon dismissed. His knowledge and execution far exceeded his years in the trade.

Since then I have worked with Paul on many different jobs and it was due to this, that when I became a builder myself that I used Paul on as many jobs as I could. I had and still have no hesitation in handing Paul a set of plans and walking away forgetting about that job until it's completion.

I am sure on examination you will be surprised that Paul has not applied for his licence before this. I wish him well on his future endeavours. Please don't hesitate to call if you have any further questions.

Yours Sincerely

Dear Paul,

We wanted to take the time to extend our appreciation for your professionalism in the completion of our renovation project. After working with numerous building teams and contractors on both our current home and previous renovation projects, we found PTF Constructions to be extremely organized, informative and realistic with timeframes and goal setting.

On a personal level, we've found you and your team to be particularly 'easy going', personable, honest and approachable. You were prompt and reliable in answering our questions and keeping us well informed of progress.

It was very important to us that the standard and quality of your work be very high. We are grateful to see that you met and in some cases exceeded our expectations.

We wish you and your company all the best for your new ventures in Hervey Bay. We would be more than happy to provide further reference to prospective clients.

Kind Regards,
